CITY OF SASKATOON TO BENEFIT FROM IMPROVED PUBLIC TRANSIT AND A NEW LEISURE CENTRE

Five infrastructure projects in Saskatoon will increase access to leisure activities, as well as high frequency and reliable transit thanks to the combined investment of more than $151.9 million from the governments of Canada and Saskatchewan, along with the City of Saskatoon.

Announced by Jenna Suds, Federal Minister of Families, Children and Social Development, on behalf of Sean Fraser, Federal Minister of Housing, Infrastructure and Communities, Saskatchewan Government Relations Minister Don McMorris and Saskatoon Mayor Charlie Clark, this project will result in a better connected, healthier city.

Development of Saskatoon's Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) will be launched with four different projects. Through today's funding the first of three planned BRT lines will have 16 new stops along approximately 15 kilometres, running between the west and northeast areas of Saskatoon. To provide accessibility and sustainability, approximately 25 low floor, zero-emission buses and 30 diesel buses will replace and upgrade the existing fleet. The BRT system will help Saskatoon Transit accommodate the city's expected growth and will improve reliability and resiliency. The increased capacity will also help to address the current bus shortage.

The City will also receive funding to construct a new leisure centre in the Holmwood Sector. The facility will be fully accessible with proposed features including a pool for lane swimming and leisure activities, a fitness and weight room as well as multipurpose and childminding spaces. The new East Side Leisure Centre will provide nearly 70,000 residents of this east end community with more opportunities to come together, stay active, and make long-lasting memories.

"We are focused on building a brighter, more resilient, and more sustainable future for our children and grandchildren," said Sudds. "That means investing in infrastructure that builds stronger, healthier communities and helps connect residents to work, school and each other. Projects like today's announcement support our shared vision of a greener, better connected Saskatoon. The transit improvements and expansions will improve commuters' experience and comfort, while the new recreation centre will promote active lifestyles. We will continue to invest in projects that help lower emissions and make it easier for Canadians to get to their destinations."

"The Government of Saskatchewan is proud to support these important projects with an investment of nearly $34 million," McMorris said. "Public transit plays a vital role in the flow and function of a large centre like Saskatoon, and residents deserve a reliable bus system to carry them to their destinations. One of those destinations will someday be the new leisure centre, where I'm sure countless memories will be made, and experiences shared. These are investments in Saskatchewan people and the great lives that are built in this province."

"This transformational investment in infrastructure is crucial to creating a vibrant Saskatoon for our growing population," Clark said. "The Bus Rapid Transit system and related roadway infrastructure improvements will make moving around our city more efficient and reliable for all users. The new East Side Leisure Centre will provide much needed sport, recreational and cultural opportunities. Thank you to our partners in the governments of Canada and Saskatchewan for making these projects possible."

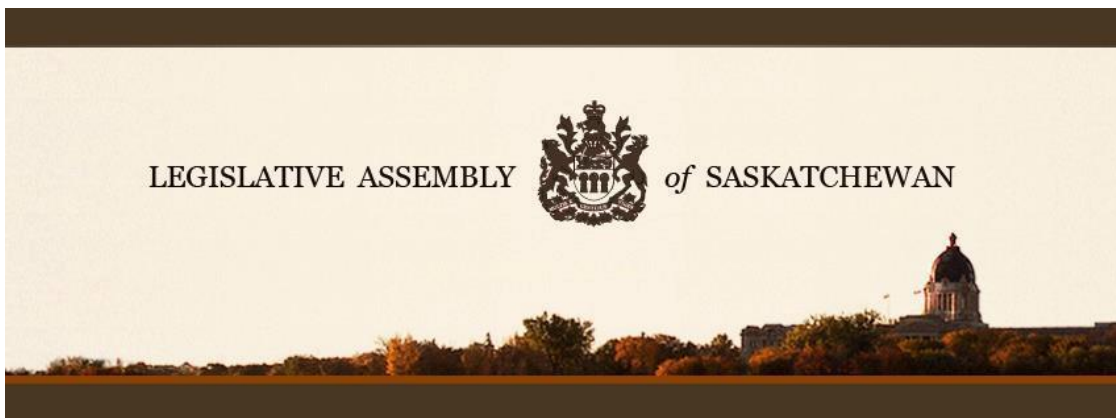

Quick facts:

- The Government of Canada is investing $60,789,075 in these projects. The Government of Saskatchewan is investing $33,986,861 and the City of Saskatoon is contributing $57,196,751.
- Including today's announcement, four infrastructure projects under the Public Transit Infrastructure Stream have been announced in Saskatchewan, with a total federal contribution of more than $44.5 million and a total provincial contribution of more than $20.4 million.

- Including today's announcement, 36 infrastructure projects under the Community, Culture and Recreation Infrastructure Stream have been announced in Saskatchewan, with a total federal contribution of more than $90.6 million and a total provincial contribution of more than $39.7 million.

REPORT FROM THE LEGISLATURE

Saskatchewan's strong and growing economy continues to lead the nation. Our Gross Domestic Product (GDP) grew by 6.0 per cent and led the nation in 2022. The total dollar value was $76.7 billion, led by an impressive 45.6 per cent increase in the agriculture sector, along with strong increases in mining, oil and gas extraction, accommodation and food services, construction and manufacturing. Our government will continue to support the economic development of Saskatchewan as we build and protect our communities.

Our strong and growing economy is being recognized around the globe. Recently, our Premier and Minister of Trade and Export Development received the Canada-India Business Council (C-IBC) Member of the Year Award for our longstanding relationship with the C-IBC and the strengthening of economic and social ties between Saskatchewan and India.

India is a major export market for Saskatchewan producers; in 2022, we exported $1.4 billion of products to India, an increase of over 130 per cent from the previous year. This increase contributed significantly to the GDP growth Saskatchewan saw last year.

A growing economy allows our government to invest back into Saskatchewan, building and protecting the programs and services that make Saskatchewan strong. We recently announced the creation of over 2,300 new regulated childcare spaces in the province through a joint provincial and federal investment of $23.5 million. A total of 51 organizations in 41 communities will use the funding to build new facilities or expand existing ones.

Among these organizations is Métis Nation-Saskatchewan, which will be acquiring land to open two 90-space childcare centres in Saskatoon and Regina. This investment will provide families greater access to affordable, high-quality early learning and childcare opportunities and support positive childhood development, early literacy and student achievement.

Our government recently introduced The SaskEnergy (Carbon Tax Fairness for Families) Amendment Act to protect Saskatchewan families from the unfair and unaffordable federal carbon tax.

On October 30, Premier Scott Moe announced that SaskEnergy will stop collecting the carbon tax on January 1, 2024, in response to the federal government's decision to stop charging the carbon tax on home heating oil, which primarily benefits families in Atlantic Canada. The Premier was clear that the federal government should extend this exemption to all forms of home heating, but if they refused to do so, Saskatchewan would stop collecting the carbon tax on SaskEnergy bills.

This legislation will give our provincial government and the Minister of Crown Investments Corporation (CIC) the sole authority and responsibility for decisions regarding the collection and remittance of the federal carbon tax on SaskEnergy bills, while also protecting SaskEnergy employees and board members.

This policy will save the average Saskatchewan family $400 in 2024. Our government still believes, and has always believed, that the carbon tax should be removed on everything, for everyone. But until that happens, with this legislation, our government is taking the necessary steps to protect Saskatchewan families' ability to afford to heat their homes this winter.

As our government continues its work to build and protect Saskatchewan, we look forward to hearing from you! Conversations with constituents help shape government policy and allow us to represent your best interests in the Legislature. SANTA CLAUS DAY PARADE HELD IN SASKATOON SUNDAY,
NOVEMBER 19

I can't remember a Santa Claus Day Parade in Saskatoon with such fantastic weather. It was great to see literally thousands of people line the streets. The spirited crowd and the large number of floats and those participating made the day extra special.

It was certainly a great way to get in the Christmas holiday spirit.

Congratulations and thank you to the organizing committee for once again doing an outstanding job!

SASKATCHEWAN RESEARCH COUNCIL AND NORTH WEST COLLEGE COLLABORATE ON NEW PLASTIC WELDING PILOT PROGRAM

The Saskatchewan Research Council (SRC) and North West College announced a new, innovative plastic welding pilot program that will be the first-of-its-kind in Saskatchewan. This exciting collaboration represents a significant step forward in addressing the growing demand for skilled professionals in the field of plastics welding.

In fall 2023, SRC worked collaboratively with North West College to develop a plastic welding pilot program which the college has now successfully turned into a value-added, micro-credential program, geared to individuals looking to expand their welding capabilities.

This program includes short-term, focused training that equips students with the specialized skills required for welding polyvinyl chloride (PVC) materials. PVC welding is a critical skill in industries such as construction, manufacturing and infrastructure development.

"This government is dedicated to supporting training initiatives, like this one, that foster specialized professional development," Minister Responsible for SRC Jeremy Harrison said. "This program will help train a new generation of specialized plastic welders, growing Saskatchewan's manufacturing and fabrication workforce, offering exciting career options in technology, engineering and construction fields."

HOLOCAUST EDUCATION TO BECOME MANDATORY IN SASKATCHEWAN

Today, the Government of Saskatchewan announced that holocaust education will be a compulsory component of the renewed Social Studies 10 curriculum - a provincial graduation requirement.

"Antisemitism, unfortunately, is a prejudice that remains a problem in Canada," Education Minister Jeremy Cockrill said. "Knowledge of the atrocities committed during the Holocaust is important for our youth as it helps reduce hate and discrimination in society."

The renewed Social Studies 10 curriculum in Saskatchewan is expected to be introduced to high school students for the 2025-26 school year. The curriculum renewal and implementation process will involve teachers and other content experts. The Ministry of Education will work with the Jewish community for their input into the content.

The addition of the Holocaust education has also been announced in other provinces, including Alberta, Manitoba, British Columbia and Ontario.

6.71 MILLION FOR SASKATOON POLICING INITIATIVES

The Ministry of Corrections, Policing and Public Safety is providing $6.71 million to the City of Saskatoon through the Municipal Police Grants program. This grant will support 49 existing police positions in the community.

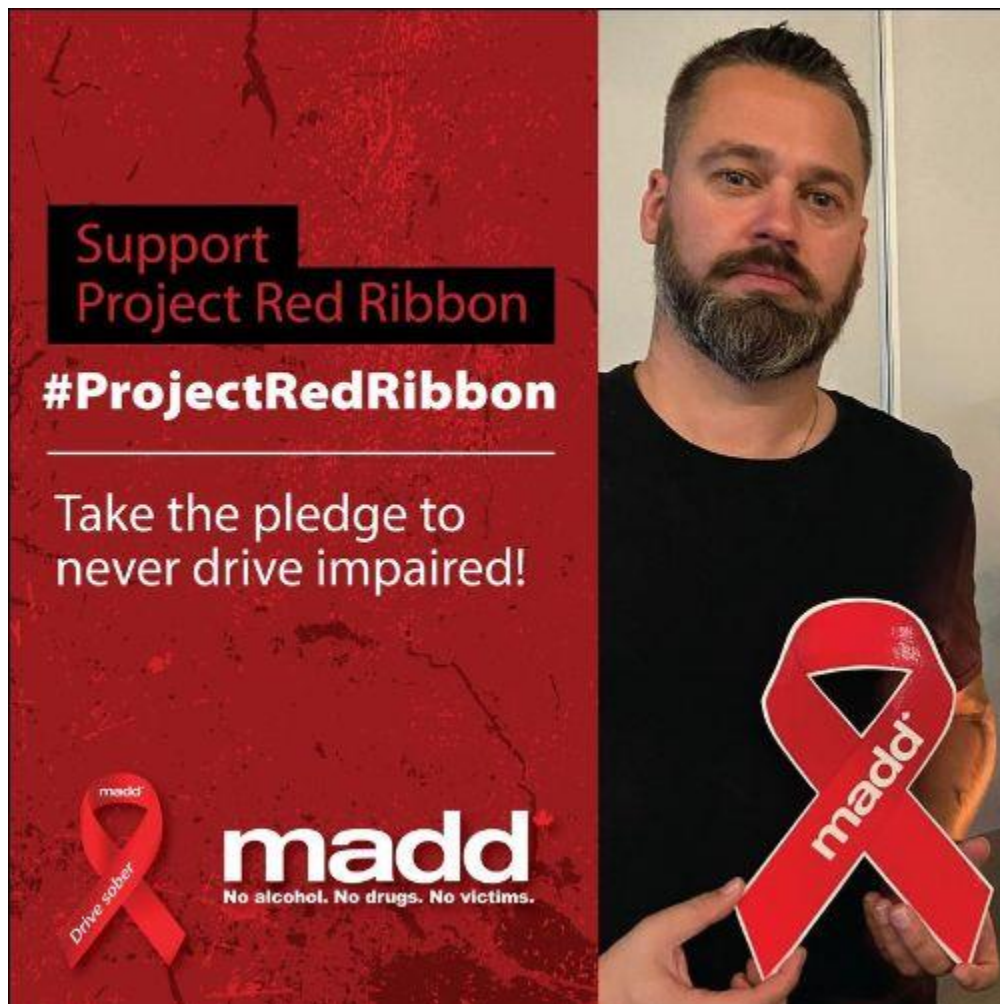

Saskatchewan Government Insurance is also providing $900,000 for five positions as part of the Combined Traffic Services Saskatchewan initiative. This brings the total of the Saskatoon Police Service Funding Agreement to $7.61 million for 54 police positions in 2023-24.

“Public safety is a leading priority for our government,” Justice Minister and Attorney General and Saskatoon Stonebridge-Dakota MLA Bronwyn Eyre said on behalf of Corrections, Policing and Public Safety Minister Paul Merriman. “We value our partnership with the Saskatoon Police Service and thank officers, as always, for protecting the citizens of Saskatoon and surrounding area.”

The funding for Saskatoon supports the continued delivery of targeted policing initiatives, such as the Police and Crisis Team (PACT), which teams police officers with mental health workers to provide an integrated and coordinated response to individuals experiencing a mental health crisis in the community. Government is providing Saskatoon with $114,400 in new funding this year for an additional PACT position.

 In the hands of a trained person, portable fire extinguishers are great tools during early stages of a fire. Did you know that there are five different types of extinguisher agents - water, foam, dry powder, wet chemical and carbon dioxide.

 When using an extinguisher or selecting an extinguisher to install, it's important to know the different types of extinguishers and what types of fire they should be applied to.

 Take a look at the images below to familiarize yourself with the different types of extinguishing agents and what they can and cannot be used on.

NEW HIGHWAY HOTLINE AD PREMIERES AND SNOW ZONE CAMPAIGN LAUNCHES

The Ministry of Highways officially debuted its new winter safety campaign reminding motorists that the safest trip is a planned trip using the Highway Hotline.

The Highway Hotline is an important tool for all drivers to know road conditions before travelling to their winter destinations.

"The Highway Hotline serves to protect motorists by keeping them informed about Saskatchewan's ever changing road conditions," Highways Minister Lori Carr said. "I want to encourage everyone to have the Highway Hotline at the top of their winter driving check list. Please make an informed decision about your route and whether you should head out."

GOVERNMENT INTRODUCES CARBON TAX FAIRNESS FOR FAMILIES ACT

Removing Carbon Tax from SaskEnergy Bills Will Save Families $400 in 2024

Minister Responsible for SaskEnergy Dustin Duncan today introduced The SaskEnergy (Carbon Tax Fairness for Families) Amendment Act to protect Saskatchewan families from the unfair and unaffordable federal carbon tax.

On October 30, Premier Scott Moe announced that SaskEnergy will stop collecting the carbon tax on January 1, 2024, in response to the federal government's decision to stop charging the carbon tax on home heating oil, which primarily benefits families in Atlantic Canada. Moe said the federal government should extend the exemption to all forms of home heating, but if they refused to do that, the province would stop collecting the carbon tax on SaskEnergy bills.

The removal of the federal carbon tax from SaskEnergy bills, effective January 1, 2024, will save the average Saskatchewan family approximately $400 in 2024.

"Our government is taking the necessary steps to protect Saskatchewan families' ability to afford to heat their homes this winter by removing the federal carbon tax from the natural gas bills of residential customers," Duncan said. "This legislation will give our government, and me as Minister, the sole authority and responsibility for decisions regarding the collection and remittance of the federal carbon tax on SaskEnergy bills while also providing protection for SaskEnergy employees and board members

Promoting the Food, Fuel, & Fertilizer the World Needs

Through our network of nine international trade offices and engagement with countries around the world, we have exported a record $52.6 billion in 2022.

Saskatchewan has an incredible story to tell.

When we unlock the full potential of the industries that are producing some of the most sustainable products anywhere, our growth has the ability to exceed all our expectations.

With record exports and GDP growth in 2022, Saskatchewan is moving full steam ahead!

Exporting $1B to 10 International Markets

More than 1 in 6 jobs in Saskatchewan are tied directly to international exports.

That is why our government's Growth Plan targets an increase to the number of markets where Saskatchewan exports over $1 billion.

Thanks to exports to Mexico exceeding $1 billion for the first time in 2022, Saskatchewan now exports more than $1 billion to 10 markets including Brazil, MENA, India, Bangladesh, ASEAN, Japan, China, EU, US, and Mexico.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION SURGES FORWARD IN SASKATCHEWAN

New numbers released by Statistics Canada show continued growth for Saskatchewan's investment in building construction for September 2023.

"Investment in building construction is a clear indicator of growth for Saskatchewan's economy," Trade and Export Development Minister Jeremy Harrison said. "They show that investors, businesses and families are choosing this province as the place to build their futures. This means stronger communities that help Saskatchewan thrive."

Investment in building construction was up 18.5 per cent month-over-month from September 2023 over August 2023. Numbers were also up 7.6 per cent in September 2023 compared to September 2022. These were the third and second highest percentage changes among the provinces.

GOVERNMENT OF SASKATCHEWAN INTRODUCES CHILD SUPPORT CALCULATION SERVICE

Separation is hard enough without going to court to figure out child support.

The Child Support Service can calculate or recalculate child support for you at no cost, so you can focus on what really matters.

The Government of Saskatchewan is launching a Child Support Service to assist parents, who are experiencing separation and divorce, to calculate initial child support without having to go to family court. This will expand the Child Support Service (formerly the Child Support Recalculation Service), launched in 2018, which has offered a faster, more efficient way for separated parents to update support amounts for existing child support orders.

"The family court process can be costly, complex, time-consuming, and cause great stress to parents and children," Justice Minister and Attorney General Bronwyn Eyre said. "This service aims to reduce some of that financial burden and anxiety and allow parents to focus on the wellbeing of their children."

The main driver of this growth is a 45.6 per cent increase in the agriculture sector. Mining, oil and gas extraction, accommodation and food services, construction and manufacturing were other key industries for the province.

The latest Gross Domestic Product (GDP) numbers for Canada place Saskatchewan as the top province in the nation for GDP growth. According to Statistics Canada, Saskatchewan had a 6.0 per cent increase from 2021 to 2022, ranking first among provinces and territories. The total dollar value of the province's 2022 GDP is $76.7 billion.

"Saskatchewan's economy is growing," Trade and Export Development Minister Jeremy Harrison said. "Not only do our GDP numbers lead the nation, but they lead by an impressive margin, almost double that of many other provinces. We will continue to support the economic development of Saskatchewan as a way to build and protect our communities."
